Conference: Morning, January 14, 2014 (Tuesday)

Venue: THE WELLINGTON ROOM

08:30-08:40	Opening Remarks  Professor Yixun Shi Faculty of the Department of Mathematics, Computer Science and Statistics Bloomsburg University of Pennsylvania, USA
08:40-09:20	Keynote Speaker Speech 1  Professor Sergio Janczak Western University-Canada Title: Business Assistance Systems: The Missing Link Abstract: Successful start-up companies, and small and medium-sized enterprises (SMEs), help economic development, avoid the waste of limited resources and create wealth within society. Because of this, a number of business assistance systems (BAS) have been set up by local, regional and national governments to facilitate the development of SMEs (Fayolle, 2004). At the same time, the role that governments should play in assisting small business development has been questioned (Aernoudt, 2007; Storey, 1994). One reason for this confusion is the lack of theory about SME policy (Gibb, 2000). The purpose of this presentation is to propose a model that integrates all the activities involved in small business assistance. The paper is organized in three sections, beginning with a literature review on BAS. Section two presents a proposed model of analysis for BAS, and section three describes the implications of this model for scholars and managers. The paper ends with an exploration of several research avenues that emerge from our model.

09:20-10:00	Keynote Speaker Speech 2  Professor Yixun Shi Faculty of the Department of Mathematics, Computer Science and Statistics Bloomsburg University of Pennsylvania, USA Title: On The Future of E-Education and E-Learning Abstract: Today, E- Education and E-Learning are growing rapidly as a new way of education and learning. What are the driving forces behind this trend? What will happen in the future of education and learning? This presentation observes a number of reasons that attract people to E-Education and E-Learning, and looks into the trend for the future of education and learning. A Markov chain model with changing transition matrices is used to describe the trend. Quantitative procedures for establishing the model and estimating changes and long term trend are also described.
